Official's Firm May Get Planetarium Study Pact

The firm of Snedaker, Budd & Watts Architects, may be retained to conduct an engineering and feasibility study for remodeling of the second floor of the Hansen Planetarium.

Salt Lake City Commissioners were told the firm may be given the contract for the study even though R. Lloyd Snedaker, former member and new president of the Salt Lake City Library Board, is a partner in the firm. The library board is in charge of the planetarium.

Earlier, the city attorney's office ruled, in a legal opinion, that Mr. Snedaker would be in violation of the state ethics act if the contract were awarded to the firm.

However, Roger F. Cutler, assistant city attorney, told the commission that he has additional information on the matter that shows Mr. Snedaker works less than 18 hours a month for the city and is exempt from the state etchics act.

Richmond T. Harris, chairman of the planetarium committee for the city library board, said they will ask the firm to carry out the study because they were the original designers of the planetarium.

Bus Service?

Whether Sandy and Midvale will participate in the Utah Transit Authority's $1.2 milion program for bus service in the Salt Lake metropolitan area will be decided at meetings scheduled for Tuesday and July 7.

The matter will be brought up at a budget hearing Tuesday at 4 p.m. at Sandy City Hall, but Midvale officials will not air the issue until July 7 at 7 p.m. in Midvale City Hall.

Under the authority's plan, Midvale would have the option of budgeting $12,428 for full service, $9,643 for a reduced route or $4,115 if the buses do not leave State Street. Or, of course the entire proposal could be rejected.

Sandy's share, according to authority computations, would be $3,949.

Overtime Pay

A Salt Palace employe charged Friday Salt Lake County Commissioner Philip R. Blomquist has refused to approve payment of overtime to Palace personnel.

Douglas W. Morgan, stage manager, said 30 to 40 Palace employes have overtime pay coming. Mr. Blomquist was out of town and unavailable for comment. However, County Commissioner Royal K. Hunt said compensatory time off is provided.

"We just don't have the money in the budget right now to approve overtime for anyone," he said.

Douglas S. Borg, assistant Palace manager, also said compensatory time off is provided. "These men have to work many nights and weekends," he said. "But we have it worked out for them to take time off for overtime durlng slow periods."

Two Killed In Utah Accidents

Special to The Tribune

HUNTINGTON, Emery County — A head-on auto collis on on Utah 10, three miles south of here, claimed the life of a 39-year-old Emery man.

The victim was identified as Ruel L. Olsen, who died in the crash at 12:40 a.m. He was alone in the auto and was dead on arrival at a Price hospital.

Driver of the second car was Debra Lynne Cox, 16, Castle Dale. She and Agnes Draper, 57, a passenger, also of Castle Dale, were treated and released at Carbon Hospital at Price.

Utah State Highway Patrol Trooper Ramon Martinez, investigating officer, said one of the autos involved apparently crossed the highway center line.

MONTICELLO — A farmer died on his ranch 12 miles east of here Friday about 3 a.m. when a hay loader struck him on the head.

Clyde Nielson, 64, was killed instantly when he backed his tractor into the prop supporting the hay loader. Apparently it fell, striking him on the back of the head, said Deputy Sheriff Randy Stanard, San Juan County Sheriff's Office.

Mr. Nielson's body was discovered about 3 a.m. by two neighbors, Frances and Don Barton, who went to the ranch at the request of Mrs. Nielson to learn why the victim had not returned home.

$6,000 Blaze Strikes

GRANGER — Fire caused $6,000 damage to the home of Russell E. Day, 5200 W. 3800 South, at 6:45 p.m. Friday after a boy left a candle burning in his home, according to County Fire Battalion Chief Clair Rasmussen.

Court Backs Dismissal of Ute Indian Suit

A decision by the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals received Friday affirms Judge A. Sherman Christensen, U.S. District Court for Utah, in dismissing a suit by 490 "mixed blood" Ute Indians who sought a higher portion of oil, gas and mineral royalties.

The 1968 suit by Affiliated Ute Citizens of the State of Utah against the federal government sought to have conveyed to its individual members, pro rata, a portion of the oil, gas and minerals underlying the Uintah and Ouray Reservation in Utah.

The decision, written jointly, by Chief Judge David T. Lewis, Salt Lake City, and Judges Oliver Seth, Santa Fe, and Howard C. Bratten, Albuquerque, noted that under Public Law 83-671, the mixed-blood group has an undivided 27 percent beneficial interest in the minerals while the full-blood group has the remainder. The legal title has remained with the U.S. government.
